

FREE New Digital Magazine Service at Longford Libraries

Longford Libraries are now providing our customers with unlimited digital access to a wide range of popular magazines via a new digital magazine download service from W F Howes Ltd.

Zinio is a download format that can be linked to any library's website, providing access to digital magazines for every Library borrower.

The service is available on android and apple devices as well as PC's and other mobile devices. When using devices such as iPad's, iPhones and android smartphones, the Zinio Reader 4 app even makes the magazine available offline. Alternatively, the majority of titles are available to read on your internet browser.

The service is Free! and it is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week! All that is required is your Longford Library membership card number and email address to register for create your Zinio account .To register go to <http://www.rbdigital.com/lgma/zinio>.

Each title has unlimited availability, meaning Library borrowers can all download the latest editions at the same time .

The Zinio For Libraries App for I pads/iphones can be downloaded free from the iTunes store or Google Play for Android devices.

The service is available 24 hours and day, seven days a week. All that is required is an email address to create your Zinio account and then enjoy reading!
